A Perfect Partnership for COVID-Relief

Spotlight

CSOs Exhibits Unprecedented Grit During COVID-Relief

The COVID-19 pandemic put to test the collective resilience of the entire nation. It is a scenario where solutions are unlikely to be found if everyone works in their respective silos. Unlike localised responses during disaster relief, the COVID-19 pandemic demanded mobilisation at a massive scale and the CSOs were able to rise to the occasion successfully.

Vantage Point

Focus Areas For CSOs

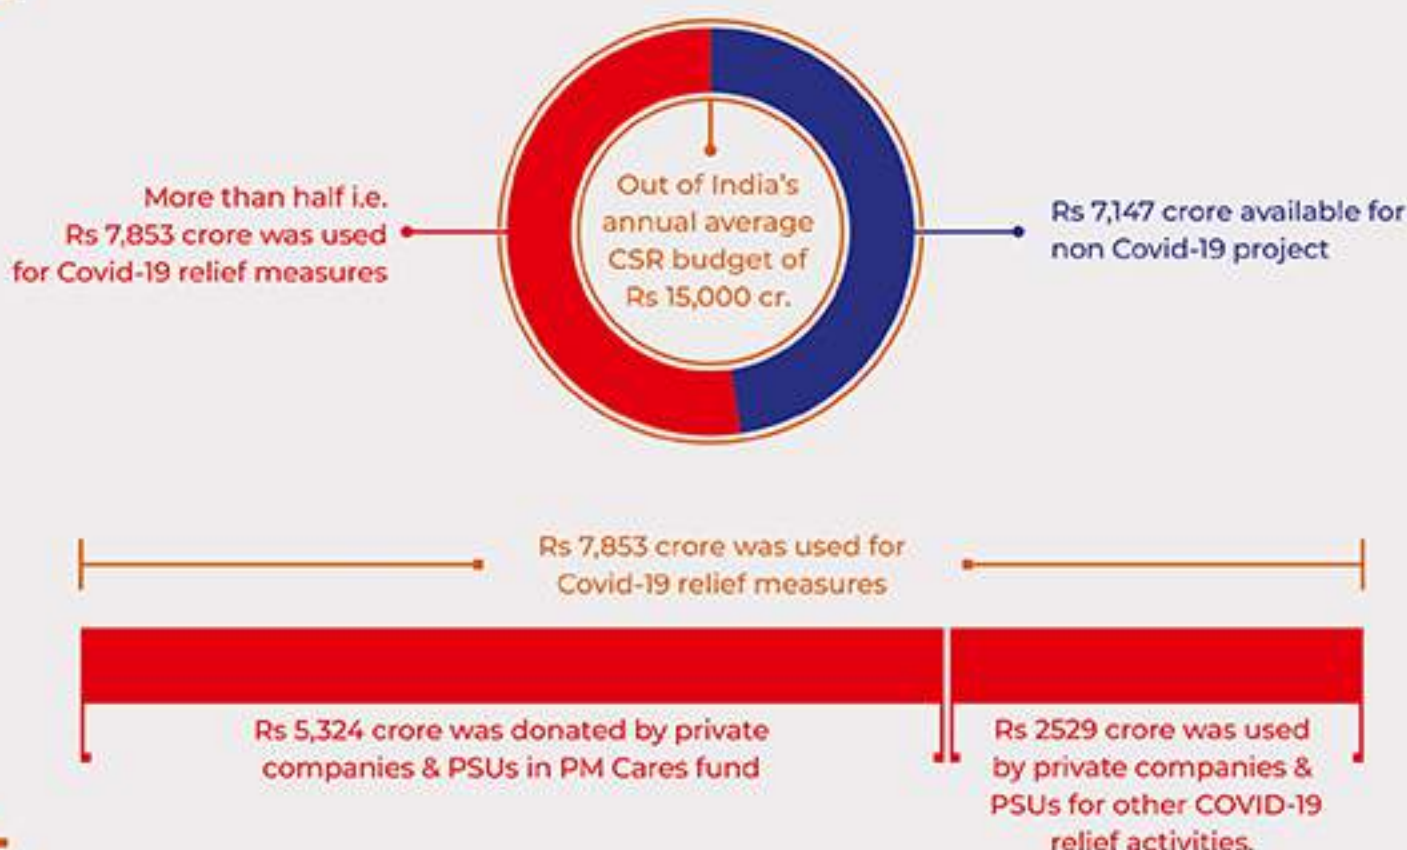

COVID-19 provided opportunities to the private sector and CSOs to partner and collaborate for various activities, campaigns and interventions targeted at addressing the direct and indirect impact of the pandemic. While some of these activities provided immediate relief during the lockdown periods, others are focused on addressing the long term impacts of the pandemic.
